PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Fellow Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives:

After a brief interval the Congress of the United States resumes its annual legislative labors. An all-wise and merciful providence has abated the pestilence which visited our shores leaving its calamitous traces upon some portions of our country. Peace, order, tranquility and civil authority have been formally declared to exist throughout the whole of the United States. Civil authority has superseded the coercion of arms and the people by voluntary action are maintaining their governments in full activity and complete operation. The enforcement of the laws is no longer obstructed in any place by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings. The animosities engendered by the war are rapidly yielding to the beneficent influences of our free institutions and to the kindly effects of unrestricted social and commercial intercourse. An entire restoration of fraternal feeling must be the earnest wish of every patriotic heart and we will have accomplished our greatest national achievement when forgetting the sad events of the past and remembering only their instructive lessons we resume our onward career as a free prosperous and united people.

In my message of the 4th of December 1865 Congress was informed of the measures which had been instituted by the Executive with a view to the gradual restoration of the States in which the insurrection occurred to their former relations with the General Government. Provisional Governors had been appointed, Conventions called, Governors elected, Legislatures assembled and Senators and Representatives chosen to the Congress of the United States, and Courts had been opened for the enforcement of laws long in abeyance. The blockade had been removed, custom houses re-established, and the internal revenue laws put in force in order that the people might contribute to the national income. Postal operations had been renewed and efforts were being made to restore them to their former condition and efficiency. The States themselves had been asked to take part in the high function of amending the Constitution and thus sanctioning the extinction of African slavery as one of the legitimate results of our struggle. Having progressed thus far, the Executive Head found that it had accomplished nearly all that was within the scope of its Constitutional authority. One thing however yet remained to be done before the work of restoration could be accomplished, and that was the admission to Congress of loyal Senators and Representatives for the States whose people had rebelled against the lawful authority of the General Government. This question devolved upon the respective houses which by the Constitution are made the judges of the election returns and qualifications of their own members, and its consideration at once engaged the attention of Congress. In the mean time the Executive plan having been proposed by Congress (*) continued its efforts to perfect as far as was practicable the restoration of the proper relation between the citizens of the respective States and the Federal Government, extending from time to time what the public interests seemed to require to the judicial, revenue and postal systems of the country. With the advice and consent of the Senate the necessary officers were appointed, and appropriations were made by Congress for the payment of their salaries. The proposition to amend the Federal Constitution so as to provide for the abolition of slavery within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction was ratified by the sufficient number of States, and on the 18th day of November 1865 it was officially declared to have become valid and a part of the Constitution of the United States. All of the States in which the insurrection had existed, promptly amended their constitutions so as to make them conform to the great change thus effected in the organic law of the land. They declared null and void all ordinances and laws of secession, repudiated all pretended debts and obligations created for the revolutionary purposes of the insurrection and proceeded in good faith to the enactment of measures for the protection and amelioration of the condition of the colored race. Congress, however yet refused to admit any of those States to representation, and it was not until towards the close of the eighth month of the session that an exception was made in favor of Tennessee by the admission of her Senators and Representatives.

I deem it a subject of profound regret that Congress has thus far failed to admit to seats loyal Senators and Representatives from the other States whose inhabitants with those of Tennessee, had engaged in rebellion. Ten States, more than one-fourth of the whole number remained without representation. The seats of fifty members in the House of Representatives and of twenty members in the Senate, are yet vacant not by their own consent, not by a fractiousness of electors, but by the refusal of Congress to accept their credentials. Their admission, it is believed, would have accomplished much toward the renewal and strengthening of our relations as one people and removed a serious cause for discontent on the part of the inhabitants of these States. It would have accorded with the great principle enunciated in the Declaration of American Independence, that no people ought to bear the burden of taxation and yet be denied the right of representation. It would have been in consonance with the express provisions of the Constitution that each State shall have at least one representative, and that no State without its consent shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate. Those provisions were intended to secure to every State, and to the people of every State the right of representation in each House of Congress, and so important was it deemed by the framers of the Constitution that the equality of the States should be preserved, that not even by an amendment of the Constitution can any State without its consent be denied a voice in that branch of the national Legislature. It is true that it has been assumed that the existence of States was terminated by rebellion and the acts of their inhabitants, and that the insurrection having been suppressed, they were thence forward to be considered merely as conquered territory. The legislative, executive and judicial departments of the government have however, with great distinctness refused to sanction an assumption so incompatible with the nature of our republican system and the professed objects of the war.

Throughout the recent session of Congress the undeniable fact makes itself apparent that the ten political communities are nothing less than States of this Union. At the very commencement of the rebellion each house declared with a unanimity as remarkable as it was significant, that the war was not waged upon our side in a partisan spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the constitution and all laws made in pursuance thereof and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired and that as soon as these objects were accomplished the war ought to cease. In some instances Senators were permitted to continue their legislative functions, while in other instances Representatives were elected and admitted to seats after their States had formally declared their rights to withdraw from the Union, and were endeavoring to maintain that right by force of arms.

All of the States whose people were in insurrection as States were included in the apportionment of the direct tax of twenty millions of dollars annually laid upon the United States by an act approved on the 5th of August, 1861. Congress by the act of March 4th 1862 and by the apportionment of representation thereunder also recognized their presence as States in the Union and they have for judicial purposes been divided into districts as States alone can be divided. The same recognition appears in the recent legislation in reference to Tennessee which evidently rests upon the fact that the functions of the State were not destroyed by the rebellion but merely suspended, and that principle is of course as applicable to those States which like Tennessee, attempted to renounce their place in the Union. The action of the Executive Department of the Government upon this subject has been equally definite and uniform and the purpose of the war was stated in the proclamation issued by my predecessor on the 22d day of September 1862. It was then solemnly proclaimed and declared that hereafter as heretofore the war will be prosecuted for the object of practically restoring the constitutional relations between the United States and each of the States and the people thereof in which States that relation is or may be suspended or disturbed. The recognition of the States by the judicial department of the Government has also been clear and conclusive in all its proceedings affecting them as States and in the Supreme, Circuit, and District Courts.

In the admission of Senators and Representatives from any and all the States there can be no just grounds of apprehension that persons who are disloyal will be clothed with the powers of legislation for this could not happen when the Constitution and the laws are enforced by a vigilant and faithful Congress. Each House is made the judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its own members and may, with the concurrence of two thirds expel a member. When a Senator or Representative presents his certificate of election he may at once be admitted or rejected, or should there be any question as to his eligibility his credentials may be referred for investigation to the appropriate committees and if admitted to a seat it must be upon evidence satisfactory to the house of which he thus becomes a member that he possesses the right Constitutional and legal qualifications. If refused admission as a member for want of due allegiance to the Government and returned to his constituents they are admonished that none but persons loyal to the United States will be allowed a voice in the legislative councils of the nation, and the political power and the moral influence of Congress are thus effectively exerted in the interests of loyalty to the Government and fidelity to the Union. Upon this question so vitally effecting the restoration of the Union and the permanency of our present form of government, my convictions heretofore expressed have undergone no change but on the contrary their correctness has been confirmed by reflection and time. If the admission of loyal members to seats in the respective Houses of Congress was wise and expedient a year ago, it is no less wise and expedient now. If this anomalous condition is right now, and if in the exact condition of these States at the present time it is lawful to exclude them from representation, I do not see that the question will be changed by the efflux of time. Ten years hence if these States remain as they are, the right of representation will be no stronger, the right of exclusion will be no weaker.

The Constitution of the United States makes it the duty of the President to recommend to the consideration of Congress such measures as he shall judge necessary or expedient. I know of no measure more imperatively demanded by every consideration of national interests, sound policy and equal justice, than the admission of loyal members from the now unrepresented States. This would consummate the work of restoration and exert a most salutary influence in the re-establishment of peace, harmony and fraternal feeling. It would tend greatly to renew the confidence of the American people in the vigor of their institutions. It would bind us more closely together as a nation and enable us to show to the world the inherent and recuperative power of a Government founded upon the will of the people, and established upon the principles of liberty, justice and intelligence. It would increase our strength and enhance our prosperity. It would irrefragably demonstrate the fallacy of the arguments against free institutions drawn from our recent national disorders by the enemies of Republican government. The admission of loyal members from these States now excluded from Congress allaying doubt and apprehensions, would turn capital now awaiting an opportunity for investment into the channels of trade and industry. It would alleviate the present troubled condition of these States and by inducing emigration aid in the settlement of fertile regions now uncultivated and lead to an increased productiveness of those staples which have added so greatly to the wealth of the nation and the commerce of the world. New fields of enterprise would be opened to our progressive people, and soon the devastations of war would be repaired and all traces of our domestic differences effaced from the minds of our countrymen.

In our efforts to preserve the unity of the government which constitutes us one people, by restoring the States to the condition which they held prior to the rebellion, we should be cautious lest having rescued our nation from the perils of threatened disintegration, we turn to consolidation and in the end finally absolute despotism as a reward for the recurrence of similar troubles (*). The war having terminated and with it all occasion for the exercise of power of doubtful constitutionality we should hasten to bring legislation within the boundaries prescribed by the constitution and return to the ancient land marks established by our fathers for the guidance of succeeding generations. The Constitution which at any time exists until changed by an explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all. If in the opinion of the people the distribution or modification of the constitutional powers be in any peculiar wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way in which the constitution designates but let there be no change by usurpation, and forms are destroyed. Washington spake these words to his countrymen when, followed by their love and gratitude, he voluntarily retired from the care of public life. "Keep all things within the pale of our constitutional powers and cherish the general union as the only rock of safety." This was prescribed by Jefferson as a rule of action to his countrymen. He enjoined them to study the true principles of their constitution, and promote a union of sentiments and action equally auspicious to their happiness and safety. Jackson held that the action of the General Government should always be strictly confined to the sphere of its appropriate duties, and justly and forcibly urged that our Government is not to be maintained nor our union preserved, by the invasion of the rights and powers of the several States. In thus attempting to make our General Government strong, we make it weak. Its true strength consists in leaving individuals and States as much as possible to themselves in making itself felt not in its protection not in binding the States more closely to the centre, but leaving each to move unobstructed in its proper constitutional orbit."

Wise are the teachings of men whose deeds and services have made them illustrious and long since withdrawn from the scenes of life have left to their country the rich legacy of their example, their wisdom and their patriotism. Receiving inspirations from their lessons let us emulate them in love of country and respect for the Constitution and the laws.

THE TREASURY.

The report of the Secretary of the Treasury affords much information respecting the revenue and commerce of the country. His views upon the currency and with reference to a proper adjustment of our revenue system, internal as well as external are commended to the careful consideration of Congress. In my last annual message I expressed my general views upon these subjects. I need now only call attention to the necessity of carrying into every department of the government a system of a rigid accountability, retrenchment and wise economy with no exceptional or unusual expenditures. The oppressive burdens of taxation can be lessened by such a modification of our revenue tax as will be consistent with the public faith and the legitimate and necessary wants of the government. The report presents a much more satisfactory condition of our finances than one year ago the most sanguine could have anticipated. During the fiscal year ending the 30th of June 1865 the last year of the war, the public debt was increased $941,902 537 and on the 31st of October, 1865 it amounted to $2 740,854,750. On the 31st day of October 1866 it had been reduced to $2 551 310 006. The diminution during a period of fourteen months, commencing September 1st 1865 and ending October 31st 1866 having been $206 379 565. In the last annual report on the state of the finances it was estimated that on the 30th of June last the debt would be increased $112 194 947. During that period, however it was reduced $31 196 387, the receipts of the year having been $89 905 905 more and the expenditures $200 529 235 less than the estimate. Nothing could more clearly indicate than these statements the extent and availability of the national resources and the rapidity and safety with which under our form of government great military and naval establishments can be disbanded and expenses reduced from a war to a peace footing. During the fiscal year ending the 30th of June 1866 the receipts were $558,032 620 and expenditure $520 750 940 leaving an available surplus of $37 281 680. It is estimated that receipts for the fiscal year ending 30th June 1867 will be $475 061 386 and that expenditures will reach the sum of $316 428 078 leaving in the Treasury a surplus of $158 633 308. For the fiscal year ending the 30th of June 1868, it is estimated that the receipts will amount to $436 000 000 and the expenditures will be $350,247 641 showing excess of $85 752 359 in favor of government. These estimated receipts may be diminished by a reduction of excess on import duties but after all necessary reductions have been made the revenue of the present and of following years will doubtless be sufficient to cover legitimate charges on the treasury and leave a large annual surplus to be applied to the payment of the principal of the debt. There seems now to be no good reason why taxes may not be reduced and the country advanced in population and wealth and its debts be extinguished within the next quarter of a century.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Secretary of War furnishes valuable and important information in reference to the operations of his department during the past year. Few volunteers now remain in the service, and they are being discharged as rapidly as they can be replaced by regular troops. The army has been promptly paid, carefully provided with medical treatment well sheltered and subsisted and is to be furnished with breech loading small arms. The military strength of the nation has been unimpaired by the discharge of volunteers the disposition of unserviceable or perishable stores, and retrenchment of expenditures. Sufficient war material to meet any emergency has been retained. The disbanded volunteers stand ready to respond to the Presidential call. Large armies can be rapidly organized, equipped and concentrated. The fortifications on the coasts and frontiers have received, or is being prepared, for more powerful armaments. Lake surveys and harbor and river improvements are in course of energetic prosecution.

Preparations have been made for the payment of the additional business authorized during the recent session of Congress, under such regulations as will protect the Government from fraud and and secure to the honorably discharged soldiers the well earned reward of his faithfulness and gallantry. More than six hundred maimed soldiers have received artificial limbs or their surgical operations, and forty one national cemeteries containing the remains of 104 526 union soldiers have already been established. The total estimate of military appropriation is $25,205,699.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

It is stated in the report of the Secretary of the Navy that the naval force at this time consists of 278 vessels, armed with 2 351 guns. Of these, 115 vessels are divided among seven squadrons. The number of men in the service is 13,600. Great activity and energy have been displayed by all squadrons, and their movements have been judicious and efficiently arranged, in such manner as would best promote American commerce abroad. The vessels unemployed are undergoing repairs, or are laid up until their service may be required. Most of the ironclad fleet is at League Island, in the vicinity of Philadelphia—a place which, until decisive action shall be taken by Congress, was selected by the Secretary of the Navy as the most eligible location for that class of vessels. It is important that a suitable public station be provided for the ironclad fleet. It is intended that these vessels shall be in proper condition for any emergency, and it is desirable that the bill accepting League Island for naval purposes, which passed the House at its last session, should receive its final action at an early period, in order that there may be a suitable public station for this class of vessels, as well as a navy yard of an area sufficient for the wants of the service in the Delaware river. The naval pension fund amounts to $11,750 000, having been increased $2 750,000 during the present year. The expenditures of the Department for the fiscal year ending 30th of June last, were $43,324 526, and the estimates for the coming year amount to $23,568,436. Attention is directed to the condition of our seamen and the importance of legislative measures for their relief and improvement. The suggestions in behalf of this deserving class of our fellow citizens are earnestly recommended to the favorable action of Congress.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Postmaster General presents a most satisfactory condition of the postal service, and submits recommendations which deserve the consideration of Congress. The receipts of the year ending June 30th, 1866, were $14,386,986, and the expenditure $15,352,079, showing an excess of the latter of $965,093. In anticipation of this deficiency, however, a special appropriation was made by Congress in the Act approved July 28th 1866, including the standing appropriation of $700,000 for free mail matters, which, as a legitimate portion of revenue, yet remains unexpended. The actual deficiency for the past year is $265,093, a sum within $51,141 of the amount estimated in the annual report of 1866. The decrease of revenue compared with the previous year, was one and one-fifth per cent, and the increase of expenditures, owing principally to the enlargement of the mail service in the South, was twelve per cent. On the 30th of June last there was in operation 6 930 mail routes, with an aggregate length of 180 921 miles, with an aggregate annual transportation of 7,183,794 miles, and an aggregate annual cost, including all expenditures, of $8 401 184. The length of railroad routes is 32,092 miles and the annual transportation 3,080,967 miles. The length of steamboat routes is 143,460 miles and the annual transportation 3,411,962 miles. The mail service is rapidly increasing throughout the whole country, and its steady extension in the Southern States indicates their constantly improving condition. The great importance of the foreign service also merits attention. The Post Office Department of Great Britain and our own have agreed upon a preliminary basis for a Postal Convention which, it is believed, will prove eminently beneficial to the commercial interests of the United States, inasmuch as it contemplates a reduction of the international letter postage one half the existing rates a reduction of postage with all other countries, to and from which correspondence is transmitted in the British mails, or in mails through the United Kingdom the establishment of a uniform and reasonable charge for these, a territorial transit of correspondence inclosed mails and an allowance to each post office department of the right to use all mail communication established under authority of the other for the dispatch of correspondence either in open or closed mail, on the same terms as those applicable to the inhabitants of the country providing means of transportation.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

The report of the Secretary of the Interior exhibits the condition of those branches of the public service which are committed to his supervision. During the last fiscal year 4,629 312 acres of public land were disposed of, 1,892,516 acres of which were entered under the homestead act. The policy originally adopted relative to the public lands, has undergone essential modifications. Immediate revenue, and not the rapid settlement was the cardinal feature of our land system. Long experience and earnest discussions have resulted in the conviction that the development of our agricultural resources and the diffusion of an energetic population over our vast territory are objects of far greater importance to the national growth and prosperity than the proceeds of the sale of the land to the highest bidder in open market. The preemption laws confer upon the pioneer who complies with the terms they impose, the privilege of purchasing a limited portion of offered lands at the minimum price. The homestead enactment releases the settler from payment of purchase money and secures him a permanent home upon condition of residence for a term of years. This liberal policy invites from the older and from the more crowded portions of the new world. Its propitious results are undoubted and will be more signally manifested when time shall have given to it a wider development. Congress has granted liberal grants of public lands to corporations in aid of the construction of railroads and other internal improvements. Should this policy hereafter prevail more stringent provisions will be required to secure a faithful application of the bonds. The title to the lands should not pass by patent or otherwise but remain in the government and subject to its control until some portion of the road has been actually built. Portions of them might then from time to time be conveyed to the corporation but never in a greater ratio to the whole quantity embraced by the grants than the completed parts bear to the entire length of the projected improvement. This restriction would not operate to the prejudice of any undertaking conceived in good faith and executed with reasonable energy. It is the settled practice to withdraw from the market the lands falling within the operation of such grants and thus to exclude the inception and subsequent subversion of rights. A breach of the conditions for which Congress may deem it proper to impose upon such works a forfeiture of claim to the land so withdrawn but unconveyed, and of title to the lands conveyed which remain unsold. [This part is unintelligible.—Ed.] Operations on the several lines of the Pacific Railroad have been prosecuted with unexampled vigor and success. Should no unforeseen cause of delay occur, it is confidently anticipated that this great thoroughfare will be completed before the expiration of the period designated by Congress.

PENSIONS.

During the last fiscal year the amount paid to pensioners, including the expenses of disbursement, was $13,459,976, and 50,177 names were added to the pension rolls. The entire number of pensioners in June 30, 1866, was 126,722. These acts furnish a melancholy and striking proof of the sacrifices made to vindicate the constitutional authority of the Federal Government, and maintain inviolate the integrity of the Union. They impose upon us corresponding obligations. It is estimated that thirty-three million will be required to meet the exigencies of this branch of the service during the next fiscal year.

THE INDIANS.

Treaties have been concluded with the Indians who entered into armed opposition to our Government at the outbreak of the rebellion, and have unconditionally submitted to our authority, and manifested a desire for a renewal of friendly relations.

PATENTS.

During the year ending Sept. 30th, 1866, 8,756 patents for useful inventions and designs were issued. At that date the balance in the Treasury to the credit of the patent fund was $228,297.

THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

As a subject upon which depends an immense amount of the productionary commerce of the country, I recommend to Congress such legislation as may be necessary for the preservation of the leves of the Mississippi river. It is a matter of national importance that every step should be taken, not only to add to the efficiency of these barriers against destructive inundations, but for the removal of all obstructions to the free and safe navigation of that great channel of trade and commerce.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

under existing laws, is not entitled to that representation in the National Councils which from our earliest history has been uniformly accorded to every other territory, established from time to time within our limits. It maintains peculiar relations to Congress, to whom the Constitution has granted the power of exercising exclusive legislation over the Seat of Government. Our fellow citizens residing in the District, whose interests are thus confided to the real guardianship of Congress exceed in number the population of several of our Territories, and no just reason is conceived why a Delegate of their choice should not be admitted to a seat in the House. No mode seems so appropriate and effectual of enabling them to make known their peculiar condition and wants and of securing the local legislation adapted to them. I therefore recommend the passage of a law authorizing the electors of the District of Columbia to choose a Delegate to be allowed the same rights and privileges as a Delegate representing a Territory. The increasing enterprise and rapid progress of improvements in the District are highly gratifying and I trust that the efforts of the municipal authorities to promote the prosperity of the national metropolis will secure the encouragement and generous co-operation of Congress.

AGRICULTURAL BUREAU.

The report of the Commissioner of the Agricultural Bureau shows the operations of this Department during the past year, and asks the aid of Congress in its efforts to encourage those States which were scourged by war and are now earnestly engaged in the reorganization of domestic industry.

It is a subject of congratulation that no further combinations against our domestic peace and safety or our legitimate influence among the nations have been formed or attempted, while sentiments of reconciliation, loyalty and patriotism have increased at home. A more just consideration of our national character and rights has been manifested by foreign nations. The entire success of the Atlantic telegraphic cable between the coast of Ireland and the Province of Newfoundland, is an achievement which has been justly greeted in both hemispheres as the opening of an era in the progress of civilization. There is reason to expect that equal success will attend, and even greater results follow, the enterprise for connecting the continents through the Pacific Ocean, by the projected line of telegraph between Kamschatka and the Russian Possessions, in America. The resolution of Congress, protesting against pardons by foreign Governments, of persons convicted of infamous offenses on condition of emigration to our country, has been communicated to the States with which we maintain intercourse, and the practice, so justly the subject of complaint on our part, has not been renewed.

The congratulations of Congress to the Emperor of Russia upon his escape from an attempted assassination, have been presented to that humane and enlightened ruler and received by him with expressions of grateful appreciation.

The Executive is warned of an attempt by Spanish American adventurers to induce the emigration of the freedmen of the United States to a foreign country. He protested against this project as one which, if consummated, would reduce them to bondage more oppressive than that from which they had just been released. Assurances have been received from the government of the State in which the plan was matured, that the proceedings will not meet with its encouragement or approval. It is a question worthy of your consideration whether our laws upon this subject are adequate to the prevention or punishment of the crime thus meditated.

FRANCE AND THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

In the month of April, as Congress is aware, a friendly arrangement was made between the Emperor of France and the President of the United States, for the withdrawal from Mexico of the French expeditionary military force. The withdrawal was to be effected in three detachments, the first of which it was understood would leave Mexico in November, the second in March, and the third and last in November, 1867. Immediately upon the completion of the evacuation, the French government was to assume the same attitude of non-interference in regard to Mexico as is held by the Government of the United States. Repeated assurances have been given by the Emperor since that agreement that he would complete the promised evacuation within the period mentioned or sooner. It was reasonably expected that the proceedings thus contemplated would produce a crisis of great political interest in the republic of Mexico. The newly appointed Minister of the United States, Mr. Campbell, was therefore sent forward on the 9th day of March last to assume his proper functions as Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to that Republic. It was also thought expedient that he should be attended in the vicinity of Mexico by the Lieutenant General of the army of the United States, with a view of obtaining such information as might be important to determine the course to be pursued by the United States in re-establishing and maintaining the necessary and proper intercourse with the Republic of Mexico. Deeply interested in the cause of liberty and humanity, it seemed an obvious duty on our part to exercise whatever influence we possessed for the restoration and permanent establishment in that country of a democratic and republican form of government. Such was the condition of affairs in regard to Mexico, when, on the 22d of November, official information was received from Paris that the Emperor of France had sometime before decided not to withdraw his forces in the month of November last according to his agreement but that this decision was made with the purpose of withdrawing the whole of the force in the ensuing spring. Of this determination, however, the United States had not received any notice or intimation, and as soon as the information was received by the Government, care was taken to make known its dissent to the Emperor of France. I cannot forego the hope that France will reconsider the subject and adopt some resolution in regard to the evacuation of Mexico, which will conform as nearly as possible with the existing engagement and thus meet the general expectation of the United States. The papers relating to the subject will be laid before you. It is believed that with the evacuation of Mexico by the expeditionary forces, no subject for serious differences between France and the United States would remain. The expressions of the Emperor and people of France warrant a hope that the traditionary friendship between the two countries might in that case be renewed and permanently restored. A claim of a citizen of the United States for indemnity for spoliations committed on the high seas by the French authorities in the exercise of a belligerent power against Mexico has been met by the government of France, with a proposition to defer settlement until a mutual convention for the adjustment of all claims arising out of the recent wars on this continent, shall be agreed upon by the two countries. The suggestion is not deemed unreasonable, but it belongs to Congress to decide the manner in which claims for indemnity for foreigners as well as by citizens of the United States, arising out of the late civil war, shall be adjusted and determined. There is no doubt but the subject of all such claims will engage your attention.

It is a matter of regret that no considerable advances have been made towards an adjustment of the differences between the United States and Great Britain arising out of the depredations upon our national commerce and other trespasses committed during our civil war by British subjects in violation of international law and treaty obligations. The delay, however, may be believed to have resulted in no small degree from the domestic situation of Great Britain. A new change of ministry occurred in that country during the last session of Parliament. The attention of the new Ministry was called to the subject at an early day, and there is some reason to expect that it will now be considered in a becoming and friendly spirit. The importance of an early disposition of the question cannot be exaggerated. Whatever might be the wishes of the two governments, it is manifest that good will and friendship between the two countries cannot be established until a reciprocity in the practice of good faith and neutrality shall be restored between the respective nations. On the 6th of June last, in violation of our neutrality laws, a military expedition and enterprise against the British North American Colonies, was projected and attempted to be carried on within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States. In obedience to the obligations imposed on the Executive by the Constitution, to see that the laws are faithfully executed, all citizens were warned by proclamation against taking part in or aiding such unlawful proceedings, and the proper military and naval officers were directed to take all necessary means for the enforcement of the laws. The expedition failed but is not without its painful consequences. Some of our citizens who it was alleged were engaged in the expedition were captured and have been brought to trial for a capital offense in the province of Canada. Judgment and sentence of death have been pronounced against some, while others have been acquitted. Fully believing in the maxim of Government, that severity of civil punishment for misguided persons who have engaged in revolutionary attempts which have disastrously failed, is unsound and unwise, such representations have been made to the British Government in behalf of the convicted persons as, being sustained by an enlightened and humane judgment, it is hoped, will induce in their cases an exercise of clemency and a judicious amnesty to all who were engaged in the movement. Counsel has been employed by the Government to defend citizens of the United States on trial for capital offenses in Canada and a discontinuance of the prosecutions ordered, which were instituted in the courts of the United States against those who took part in the expedition as not only political in its nature, yet also in a great measure foreign from the United States in its causes and objects. The attempt was understood to be more in sympathy with an insurgent party in Ireland, and by striking at a British province on this continent it was designed to aid in obtaining redress for political grievances which it was assumed the people of Ireland had suffered at the hands of the British Government during a period of several centuries. The persons engaged in it were chiefly natives of that country. Some of them had, while others had not, become citizens of the United States, under our general laws of naturalization. Complaints of misgovernment in Ireland continually engage the attention of the British nation, and so great an agitation is now prevailing in Ireland that the British Government have deemed it necessary to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in that country. These circumstances must necessarily modify the opinions which might otherwise have been entertained in regard to an expedition expressly prohibited by our neutrality laws. So long as these laws remain upon our statute books they should be faithfully executed. If they operate harshly, unjustly, or oppressively, Congress alone can apply the remedy by their modification or repeal. The political and commercial interests of the United States are not unlikely to be affected in some degree by the wars which are transpiring in the eastern region of Europe, and the time seems to have come when our Government ought to have a proper diplomatic representation in Greece. This Government has claimed for all persons not convicted or accused or suspected of crime, an absolute political right of self-expatriation and a choice of a new national allegiance. Most of the European States have disclaimed this principle and have claimed a right to hold such of their subjects as have emigrated to, or have been naturalized in the United States and afterwards returned on transient visits to their native countries, to the performance of military service, in like manner as resident subjects. Complaints arising from the claims in this respect, made by foreign States, have heretofore been matters of controversy between the United States and some of the European powers, and the anxiety consequent upon the failure to settle this question, increased during the war in which Prussia, Italy and Austria were engaged. While Great Britain has never acknowledged the right of expatriation, she has not particularly insisted upon it. France has been equally forbearing, and Prussia has proposed a compromise, which, although evincing increased liberality, has not been accepted by the United States. Peace is now prevailing everywhere in Europe, and the present seems to be a favorable time for an assertion by Congress of the principles so long maintained by the Executive Department, that naturalization by one State fully exempts the native born subject of any other State from the performance of military service under any foreign Government, so long as he has not voluntarily renounced its rights and benefits.

In performance of a duty imposed upon me by the Constitution, I have thus submitted to the representatives of the States and of the people such information of our domestic and foreign affairs as the public interest seems to require. Our Government is now undergoing its most trying ordeal, and my earnest prayer is that the ordeal may be successfully and finally passed without impairing its original strength and symmetry. The interests of the nation are to be promoted by a revival of fraternal relations, the complete obliteration of our past differences, and the reinauguration of all the pursuits of peace. Directing our efforts to the early accomplishment of these great ends, let us endeavor to preserve harmony between the co-ordinate departments of the Government, so that each, in its proper sphere, may cordially co-operate with the other, in securing the maintenance of the Constitution, the preservation of the Union and the perpetuation of free institutions.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

WASHINGTON, December 3, 1866.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 6, 1866.

An Utopian Project.

The Statesman of this week proposes an entirely new plan for pacifying the country and harmonizing the discordant views and conflicting opinions of the people of different States and sections. This result is to be brought about by the adoption of a National System of Education which is to inculcate a fixed set of opinions and teach men to think alike. The general supervision and control of educational interests is to be taken from the States and entrusted to the General Government. The diverse and antagonistic ideas engendered by the present system of education, would, (it is expected) under a system common to all the States and all the people, be superseded by a community of thought and feeling that would prevent the recurrence of great differences such as those which lately agitated our country, and which finally had to be settled on the field of battle. It is argued that as the late war grew out of ideas at variance with each other, the effectual remedy against further troubles is to establish a system of education which shall teach men's minds to run in the same channel, and cause the same set of opinions to prevail in all parts of the country.

To complete this scheme one other thing would be necessary. The General Government should have the censorship of the press so as to prevent the propagation of opinions not in harmony with its views of the public necessity and the public welfare.

It has been noticed that "the superior advancement which has been attained in the cause of education by some of our States, is a continual eyesore to the remaining portions of the Union, and tends to deepen that sectional jealousy which is the bane of all confederated governments, and which, if not obliterated, will ultimately destroy our national fabric." It is true that the South detests the system of education which prevails in New England and New York. What is the remedy for this sectional jealousy? Is it to be found in compelling the South to adopt the New England system? In the extract above quoted that system is acknowledged to have produced excellent results. Under it, "superior advancement has been attained in the cause of education." This system, then, or something very similar to it, would be taken under the patronage of the General Government and enforced in all the States, North and South. This would be a novel way to abate sectional jealousies and quiet sectional animosities. Its natural effect would be to aggravate the evils it was meant to cure.

According to past experience, it is not an easy thing to get all men to think alike. A system of education having this result as its object, would be rather notional than National. As to the rights and powers of a constitutional government, men will always entertain different opinions, and no system of education can be devised that will harmonize them. Before the abolition of slavery, the New England School System could not have existed in the South. Now that slavery is abolished, an educational system will shortly grow up there, suited to the wants and interests of the people. Those States will of themselves, establish the Common School System of the North in much less time than it would take the North to force it on them.

How frightful are the annals of Consumption, and how painful the reflection that half its victims might have been saved by a timely use of that best of family remedies, "NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP." Look to your health in time. At the first manifestation of a slight cold or cough take the "SYRUP." You will find that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

CONVENIENT AND SIMPLE.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are a simple and convenient form for administering, in combination, several medicinal substances held in general esteem among physicians in the treatment of Bronchial affections and Coughs. The Troches seldom fail to give relief.

"WHAT STYLE OF PICTURE?"—By going to ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL'S GALLERY, 89 First street, (Postoffice Block,) you can easily decide the above query. Modern photography has taken immense strides since the time of the immortal Daguerre. At this Establishment are produced, and may be seen, the most valuable improvements of the Photographic art. PICTURES from this GALLERY are beyond all question the finest ever taken on this portion of the Pacific slope. Negatives made in any kind of weather.

CHIEF ENGINEER.—The excitement for the election of Chief Engineer has subsided, but KOHN & FISHEL, No. 111 Front street, still continue to receive by every steamer, fine and fashionable clothing, which they sell at extreme low prices.

A Bit of the Old Times.—The following account of financial matters and history of Oregon's first mint will be read with interest. It is from the pen of Mr. J. G. Campbell of Oregon City under date of August 1866, and may be found in the report of the Secretary of State: "Sir—In reply to yours of 17th ult., inquiring a history of the mint established in 1849, I give you a brief account. Upon the discovery of the gold mines and the consequent rush of miners for nearly every man that went to California at that time became a miner, and the great demand for supplies to clothe and feed them, Oregon very naturally sent a great number of her population, together with all the supplies that she could spare from her immediate wants, receiving in turn a large amount of gold dust of the most superior quality mostly from the Feather and Yuba rivers principally.

Nearly every man brought gold dust with him on his return to Oregon, and, finding that great annoyance and waste accompanied the payments of small sums in dust, was naturally anxious to dispose of sufficiency of dust for coin to meet their demands. There being but little coin in the country at that time caused an influx from the several ports where it could be obtained, viz. South America; and as the debasement of the currency of nearly all of the South American States was great and when, so much so, in fact, that upon my return from the Atlantic side in the latter part of 1847, before the gold mines were discovered, they did not hesitate to give me, during my stay in Panama, twenty five of their nominal quarters of a dollar in exchange for a United States half eagle coin, and when you take into consideration that a very large amount of gold dust, the intrinsic value of which was between eighteen and nineteen dollars per ounce, was being daily exchanged at the rate of eleven dollars per ounce, payable in this debased South American coin at the rate of four of these nominal quarters of a dollar to the dollar, you will see at once the enormous loss Oregon was suffering—the double discount on the gold and coin.

A small party of gentlemen met at the counting room of Campbell & Smith to take the foregoing matter into consideration, and concluded, for the general benefit of the country, to form a company for the purpose of coining the dust into a shape that would be of par value at any place where gold coin was used.

The names of the parties that paid for the machinery, dies, etc., and that incurred and lost the whole expenses of the transaction were Kilborne, Magruder, Taylor, Rector, Campbell & Smith.

The design of the dies was drawn by myself at the first meeting of the company, and immediately adopted as being appropriate. The tariff on goods exchanged by the H. B. Bay Company for furs (of which beaver money was the main item in Oregon) being much less than for coin, beaver orders on the Hudson Bay Company were considered the best money in the country.

As soon as we commenced making the coin, gold dust rose to sixteen dollars per ounce, at which rate we exchanged our dust for coin, when so requested.

After having issued some ten thousand dollars, and broken both our crucibles (we had with much trouble only been able to procure two) and having effected our object, viz: raised the price of gold dust and stopped the labor of South American currency, and every piece that we coined being at the expense of the company, we concluded to cease operations, and did so.

I send you an assay made for me at the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia in 1850; the first mentioned on the memorandum was the clippings of the last coining and the contents of our last crucible when it broke, together with some very fine Yuba dust, the second is our Oregon beaver coin, and I assure you that every coin in this assay was so abraded, that the design was almost undistinguishable, from the wear by contact with alloyed, and, of course, harder coin. I also send you the dies, which, if you see proper, I would like to have deposited with the $10 piece you alluded to. They were made by W. H. Rector and Hamilton Campbell in Oregon."

Improving the Streets.—Messrs Simmons & Sons were making an unusual stir, yesterday, at the stone pile, and upon inquiry we found they were preparing stone for the repairing of Front street between Stark and Yamhill. For a portion of the distance they are putting on a layer of considerable depth, almost entirely across the street, while upon the rest, they are filling only the worn track in the middle. Washington street, between Front and First, has been repaired in a similar manner. Outside of those streets which have the benefit of McAdam pavement, passage of heavily loaded teams is becoming already somewhat difficult, in consequence of deep mud. It is impossible to avoid such a state of the unpaved streets, especially while they are undergoing the process of grading, and all that the Street Commissioner can do is to make temporary repairs at the worst places. Those who are disposed to grumble should bear in mind that no power less than that of Omnipotence can keep frequently traveled, unpaved streets from being abominably muddy and bad during an Oregon winter. The Street Commissioner has only a small amount of money under his control for street repairs, and he is making the most he can of it.

Military.—Col Babbitt, who is ordered here as Chief Quartermaster of this Department, is expected to arrive on the Oriflamme. He will establish his office, at once, at [illegible]. The warehouse rooms for the Quartermaster are ready for use, and the offices will be soon fitted up.

Capt. Forse, of the 1st U. S. Cavalry, goes up this morning to Salem for the purpose of opening a recruiting office. He will enlist for the 8th U. S. Cavalry regiment.

A court-martial was convened at Fort Vancouver on the 30th ult., for the trial of various offenders against army rules and discipline. The court is now awaiting the arrival of witnesses from Camp Watson to testify against some deserters from Fort Boise.......About three days after Lieut. Eskridge left here with Capt. Kelly for Fort Klamath, orders arrived for him to go to Camp C. F. Smith by way of San Francisco. The order was forwarded and will await him at Jacksonville. The effect of this, will probably be to retain Capt. Sprague and his company in the service till spring, as Capt. Kelly has discretion to retain him if, in his judgment, his services may be required. There is intelligence of some further Indian troubles in that country, and Capt. Sprague will in all probability be needed, Capt. Kelly's force being but a small one.

Police Court—Hoffman, Judge.—On Wednesday, the 5th, the case of Hiem. Dobbins, adjourned from last Tuesday, on charge of assaulting James Mills with a pitchfork, was resumed. The testimony of Mr. Fields was, in substance that on the night of the 28th, Dobbins got drunk and coming into the stable at a late hour took a bed in a stall with the horses instead of getting into the hay-loft with Fields and Mills; that at an early hour on the 29th he heard Dobbins calling and upon going down he found him in the stall, with a knife in one hand and the other severely wounded, apparently with the knife; that Dobbins told Fields that Mills had been fighting him; Mills soon came down, and then Dobbins upbraided him for not coming to his aid when called. Mills made a retort, when Dobbins seized a pitch fork and made at him, inflicting a slight wound in the arm. The Judge fined Dobbins $50 and costs, which he paid and retired.

County Court—Shattuck, Judge.—The following proceedings were had Wednesday, the 5th:

State of Oregon vs. Alex. Campbell, indicted for keeping open a tippling house on Sunday for traffic, jury impanelled Tuesday, tried; verdict rendered not guilty, and defendant discharged.

State of Oregon vs. John Dougherty, indicted for same offense as above, jury rendered a special verdict that defendant kept open a tippling house on Sunday, the 11th day of November, 1866, for sale of spirituous liquors to be drank on the premises, in less quantities than a quart, being a licensed grocery.

P. L. Murphy vs. O. S. N. Co., action to recover for loss of merchandise, delivered to defendants for transportation; jury trial; verdict for plaintiff for $60.

Complimentary.—Brevet Captain Williams has lately been appointed Aid to Gen. Steele. Very recently Capt. Williams received his commission as Brevet Captain for meritorious services in the field. He well deserves the honors he is getting, and there is, perhaps, not a loyal man who will not rejoice that the Oregon boy who fought through a dozen or more of the most terrible battles of the rebellion, and who left a leg at Gettysburg, is being so faithfully remembered by his country. Capt. Williams entered the army as 2d Lieutenant, with a company raised through the influence of the lamented Col. Baker, and was promoted to 1st Lieutenant after the battle of Gettysburg. In every position, he has well sustained the hopes and expectations of his friends.

Signs of a Hard Winter.—The weather comes in just now for as much attention and abuse as anything we can name. If the weather-wise people are not at fault, the weather of which we are now getting a pretty fair sample, will go on from bad to worse for some time to come. The reason given for expecting a hard winter, is the fact that the squirrels and birds have laid in an unusual supply of creature comforts for winter consumption. It is said they do this by instinct when a severe winter is approaching, and that their improvidence is a sure indication of a mild winter.

Coming Home.—It has now been thirteen days since the Montana and the Pacific left Portland. Within a few days thereafter the Oriflamme was expected, and homeward bound passengers began to arrive in considerable numbers immediately, and have since continued to arrive by every steamer. The hotels in every direction, have been pretty well filled. The presence of so many strangers in the city, gives the streets a decidedly lively appearance.

The Dredger Laid Up.—Superintendent Walker informs us that the dredger has been temporarily laid up in consequence of high water. The soundings had become rather deep for her shovel. The river is again falling, however, and it is probable that work will be shortly resumed. Should the river remain at its present stage, no further work can be done, and the dredger will be laid up for the winter.

B. B. B.—If anybody wants to know what those three letters mean they should call at the Broom Factory on Front street, opposite the O. S. N. Co's wharf, and learn that they mean Bolter Brothers' Brooms. Bolter can make you a No. 1 broom as big as all out-of-door, or small enough to put in your vest pocket, and in either case it will be a good one.

An Unlucky Slip.—Just after the Alert landed, yesterday, at the lower wharf, a man named Williams, standing on the wharf, stepped on the top of a pile which sloped off toward the river, and suddenly slipped into the water. Upon rising to the surface he seized a line which fortunately was within reach and held himself up till rescued by the bystanders. He took the accident very coolly.

From Oregon City.—The Alert's freight list yesterday was a big one, consisting of 968 boxes apples, 5 boxes goods, 8 hogs, 1,302 sacks flour, 95 sacks feed, 31 sacks corn meal, 3 coops chickens, 5 sacks fruit, 40 sacks wheat, 1 case goods, 1 trunk, 7 barrels kraut, 1 half barrel butter, 3 barrels cider, 1 bundle trees. She put off at Milwaukie a large lot of wheat and took on a lot of flour. She also brought a large number of passengers.

Reported Dead.—Second Lieut. W. M. Knox, formerly Captain of the W. T. Infantry, late of the regular army, is reported to have died quite lately at Fort Leavenworth, of consumption.

Open to the Public.—We are authorized to say that the lecture of Judge Deady, before the Young Men's Law Association is open to the public. This Association was formed some time since by the young members of the bar for the purposes of mutual improvement in professional knowledge. Judges Deady and Shattuck and Lecha, and other gentlemen will deliver lectures during the winter.

Dancing Academy.—Prof. Cardin advertises a removal of his Dancing Academy to the new hall of Smith & C. The Professor has had over a few years experience [illegible] during [illegible] in the art of dancing [illegible].

Only a Change of Location.—We had noticed that Mr. Duncan was about to retire from the Superintendency of the Oregon City Woolen Mills and had supposed he was going out of the State. We are pleased to learn that he is going to reside in [illegible] the Woolen Mills there in which he has an interest.

Transferred.—The New York Methodist of November 3d says: Rev. B. C. Lippincott has been transferred from the Oregon Conference to the M. E. Church at Glassborough, New Jersey Conference. Mr. Lippincott was stationed here last year and left with his family for the East last spring.

Wheat Coming.—The Fannie Patton came down from the upper Willamette, yesterday, with a big load of wheat. It is said that immense quantities of it are stored at various points up the river. A considerable proportion of it will remain in store for the present in the expectation of a rise in price.

Ready.—The paper mill at "Lowell" is ready to start to-day. We reckon the lint will fly now. If Brother Ireland should crow very extensively in the next number of the Enterprise we don't know but he would be entirely excusable.

Arrived.—The Tillamook schooner Champion, arrived, safe and sound, Tuesday night, in tow by the steamer Couch. She had a freight of butter, produce and Elk pelts. She had suffered no injury by being blown ashore in Tillamook bay.

Every Man May Ride.—Horses were sold at auction, yesterday by Richardson as low as $10. At that rate for horse flesh the man who goes on foot, must be a pedestrian most decidedly from choice.

Do not buy your clothing until you see Burman Bros.' assortment and low prices.

Taken internally, it cures sudden colds, coughs, etc., weak stomach, general debility, nursery sore mouth, canker, liver complaint, dyspepsia or indigestion, cramp, and pain in the stomach, bowel complaint, painters' colic, Asiatic cholera, diarrhea and dysentery. Applied externally, cures felons, boils and old sores, severe burns and scalds, cuts, bruises and sprains, swelled joints, ringworm and tetter, broken breasts, frosted feet and chilblains, toothache, pain in the face, neuralgia and rheumatism. It is a sure remedy for Ague and Chills and Fever. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. no8 1m

Consumption like the Rattle-Snake, always gives warning of its approach. A hacking cough, dull pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing are the indications that there is more or less irritation of the Lungs. If this be neglected, and goes on until pustules are formed, followed by tubercles, which sometimes eat off the blood vessels, Death will be the result. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will heal all the irritated parts, allay the inflammation, removing the phlegm and matter. Thus stopping the cough and prevent fatal Consumption. For sale by all Medicine Dealers. nov8-d1m

If any[illegible] the greatest [illegible] it pays well.
DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS
[illegible] They should be [illegible] every [illegible] hold.
They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of fever.
There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach's sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.
They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Lame, with magical power.
A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel
WELL STRONG AND HEARTY.
A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing, in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.
They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.
They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel plate side label.
Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

Mustang Liniment.
OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!
Gentlemen.—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."
J. L. DOWNING
Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859
"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J. W. HEWITT,
Foreman American, Wells Fargo and Harnden's Express
"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.
Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1865 ED SEELY"
It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. over the top.
An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.
This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it or a family that does not use it.
E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.
Lyon's Extract of Pure Jamaica Ginger—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "Lyon's" Pure Extract. Take no other.
Caution.—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.
Death to Fleas.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnetic Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed bugs, roaches, &c., that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. Lyon, and the private stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist you will have no other.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against it is practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

The Sweetest Days

The clouds in many a windy rack
Are sailing East and West
And sober suns are bringing back
The days I love the best

The poet, as he will, may go
To Summer's golden prime
And set the roses in a row
Along the fragrant thyme

But as for me I sing the praise
Of fading flowers and trees
For to my mind the sweetest days
Of all the year are these

When stubble hills and hazy skies
Proclaim the harvest gone
And labor wipes her eyes and lies
A-dreaming in the sun

And idly hangs the spider on
Her broken silver stair
And ghosts of thistles dead and gone,
Slide slow along the air

Where all is still, unless perhaps
The cricket makes ado
Or when the dry billed heron snaps
Some little reed in two

Or school boy tramples through the burs
His tangled path to keep,
Or ripe mast, rustling downward, stirs
The shadows from their sleep

Ay he that wills it so may praise
The lilies and the bees
But as for me the sweetest days
Of all the year are these

My darling in the woodland glen
One hour with me apart
And let us walk and talk as when
I gave you all my heart.

Ah! wrap you with your veil so thin,
And let us wander slow
To that delicious bower wherein
We courted long ago

Where dying violets scent the air,
And faint the ground-stars burn;
And where I gave my heart and when
You gave your heart in turn

We had a quarrel—do you mind?—
About the daisies' eyes
Whether they closed because the wind
Was singing lullabies

And you said Yes, and I said No,
And you got vexed and cried,
And that I gave it up and lo
You took the other side

And you said No, and I said Yes,
The bosoms of the flowers
Were sensitive no whit the less,
Nor tender less than ours

And you, as I remember yet,
Said that might well be true,
If you against them only set
My tenderness for you!

And I said—being sorely stung
That you my love should slight—
A woman always had a tongue
To make the wrong seem right!

So then your brows you darkly bent,
And kissed me with a frown,
And I grew softly penitent,
And to my knees went down,

And when that willow of the glen
Shut out the insolent light,
I took you in my arms and then
I kissed you just for spite!

Ay, just for very spite, I said,
But when your sweet cheek grew
So painfully and proudly red,
I said it was for true.

And brushing from your face the tear,
You gave me back my kiss
Nor have we quarreled once my dear,
From that glad day to this.

Therefore I leave who will to praise
The lilies and the bees,
For, love of mine, the sweetest days
Of all the year are these.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO DECEMBER 3.

Talk of Impeachment—The Fortieth Congress to Assemble in March—Newspaper Comments.

NEW YORK, Dec 3—The Herald's Washington special says that Boutwell of Massachusetts, at the Republican caucus last night, said a special committee should be appointed whose duty it would be to inquire into the subject of impeachment of the President and that the suggestion met with the hearty co-operation of all He will introduce a resolution at the earliest opportunity after the assembly of Congress for the appointment of joint committee to investigate the conduct and course of the President, and report what action it will be necessary for Congress to take.

It is also stated in Washington that Schenck of Ohio will introduce a bill soon to assemble the Fortieth Congress on the 5th of March.

The World's Washington special says that the President, in his message to Congress, adheres firmly to his restoration policy and argues at length in favor of the immediate admission to Congress of duly qualified loyal Representatives from the South. Of foreign affairs, he says that with great efforts the progress toward the adjustment of the Alabama question has been slow, owing in some degree, to the change in the British Ministry, but matters in that regard look favorable. He states that France has not yet complied with her agreement to take her troops out of Mexico. France asks a postponement till spring This Government has remonstrated, but the President says no reply has been received from Napoleon as to what he will do A satisfactory adjustment is hoped for

Gen Sherman has merely gone to Mexico in an advisatory capacity for Campbell The message is silent on the questions of the Mexican Protectorate, and makes no allusion to Maximilian whatever

The Herald's Milledgeville correspondent states the reasons for rejecting the Constitutional amendment by the Georgia Legislature were that no guarantee was given that even the restoration of the State to the Union would follow the ratification They regard it the height of ingratitude to disfranchise those who were lately their soldiers. They have begun to look calmly at the possibility of negro suffrage as a means of re-admission, but it is still revolting to them. A bill is under consideration in the Georgia Legislature looking to the establishment of common schools for whites and blacks throughout the State, and it is probable it will be passed Emigration from the North is encouraged, and much capital has already flowed in from that section.

John H. Surratt.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The Times' Washington special says of the arrest of John H Surratt It appears, as we learn from official sources, that Surratt was arrested in Italy, as heretofore reported, whilst in the Papal Zouaves, and at once the Pope promptly gave the necessary orders for his arrest upon the request of Minister King, notwithstanding there is no treaty between the United States and the Papal Government

STATE ITEMS.

Diphtheria is prevailing at Salem Several children have died there during the last few days.

A brother of A Bush died at Salem on Monday His death was sudden—his illness being of less than 24 hours continuance

Mr Foley, who has recently returned from several weeks' explorations in Tillamook county, reports the discovery in the mountains, of tin, copper and silver ore.

The Courier reports that all the carpenters in and about Lafayette have been unusually busy for the past few months, and the demand is quite in advance of the supply of that kind of labor yet

The steamer Daybee in coming down the Columbia on Monday, broke her shaft. The accident occurred just below the Umatilla Rapids. This information is furnished by Mr Greathouse of the stage line.

We learn that a movement is on foot to revive the Journal newspaper at Albany Linn county ought to have a Union paper, and the Union men there are well able and we believe willing to support one

Up to December 1, there have been stored in the Lafayette warehouse, 8,912 bushels of wheat, 78 tons of flour, 16½ tons of apples and 2,100 lbs. of timothy seed Mr Sampson, the prompt and energetic proprietor, has had his hands full for a while past. We quote from the Courier

The following officers were elected at the municipal election at Albany, on Monday last Mayor, E F Russell, Recorder, J C Powell, Treasurer J Barrows, Marshal, R. Fox, Aldermen, Thos Monteith, D. M Thompson, M W Mack, D W Wakefield and W Ketchum—all Union men, and elected by majorities ranging from six to thirteen This is a Union gain over the last election The number of votes cast was 249.

School Lands in Multnomah County.

The following is furnished us for publication by Mr. Atkinson, Superintendent of Schools for Multnomah county.

According to the requirements of the late law, the school lands in this county subject to sale, at the present time, have been reported to the Governor, who, with the Secretary and Treasurer, constitute the State Board for the sale of public lands. The Register of Lands decides that only such parts of the 16th and 36th Sections as were not claimed under the donation law, can now be sold Lands, taken in lieu of the claimed portions of the 16th and 36th Sections cannot be sold until the patents have been issued for those claimed portions The amount now reported for sale in the county is six thousand three hundred and seventy five and 25 100 acres The estimated values as near as possible were given. Those who wish to purchase will please apply to the State Board.

It is a curious coincidence that the battle of Bull Run and the surrender of Gen Lee took place on land owned by Major Wilmer McLean A letter writer who recently visited Appomattox Court House, says 'Major McLean is now offering his house for sale, as he is desirous of returning to his farm, near Manassas, where the first battle of the late war was fought, and as he only purchased this place during the war being a refugee from his home after the Bull Run fight'

England has now an organized volunteer militia force numbering 135,000 infantry 27 000 artillery, 4,000 engineers and a small contingent of cavalry—all well organized, equipped, armed and thoroughly drilled.

An old campaigner says, that of all the solemn hours he ever saw, that occupied in going home one dark night from the Widow Bem's, after being told by her daughter Sally that he "needn't come again," was the most solemn

FROM VICTORIA

We have Victoria papers to the 25th ult We extract the following

AN UNNATURAL CRIME

Captain Frain of the steamer Emily Harris last evening brought down a half breed girl, named Mary Ann McFadden, daughter of one James McFadden a resident of Salt Spring Island who stands charged with the awful crime of attempting to destroy her own father by mixing a deadly poison (strychnine) with a cup of tea, which he drank McFadden is a farmer in a small way on Salt Spring Island He is a widower and has three boys and two girls of which Mary Ann is the eldest dependent on his exertions On or about the 12th of October last, McFadden was working for a Mr Binn at Nanaimo in whose house the accused was residing While there a niece of McFadden's—also a half breed—named Mrs Sampson, visited the Binns, and it was during her stay that the attempt upon McFadden's life is alleged to have been made The daughter acknowledges that she prepared the poisonous draught but says that she was instigated to it so by the woman Sampson between whom and the accused's father there exists an old grudge

THE CABLE.

The steamer Hertford, Captain Coffin, with Mr Haines on board, left for Lopez Island yesterday, for the purpose of "under running" and repairing the cable which connects that Island with San Juan

KAMLOOPS AND SHUSWAP RESERVES

The British Columbia Government have adjusted the claims of Kamloops and Shuswap Indian Tribes to the tract of land extending over forty miles along the right bank of the south branch of Thompson river from Kamloops to the great Shuswap lake Three portions of this land are appropriated as reserves for these tribes, and will be immediately surveyed and staked off, the remainder of the land hitherto claimed by the Indians along the north bank of the south branch of Thompson river will be open to pre-emption on and after the 1st of January, 1867

THE HEAD TAX

Thirty five passengers, who arrived from the Sound, by the Eliza Anderson yesterday, paid $1 each as a head tax for the blessed privilege of landing here The Josie McNear's passengers being few in number, contributed a comparatively small amount the revenue The collection was attended with considerable difficulty, and the tax was bitterly denounced by those who came under its operation as downright robbery And it is little better. The idea of charging a man a dollar every time he enters this port is perfectly outrageous, if not absolutely illegal

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

We take the following from the Olympia Tribune

We are informed that the steamer built by Messrs. Miller & Ethridge, for the navigation of the Chehalis river, is now in perfect running order, and her trial trip down the river was a perfect success The steamer was constructed entirely by them from keel to throttle valve, and we are pleased to know that they have been successful A means of transportation such as this steamer will afford will undoubtedly give an impetus to settlement on the rich bottoms of that river

Mr Brown, surveyor of the party that explored the Wenachee pass through the Cascade Mountains, the report of which we published a short time since, says that on numerous branches of the Wenachee river, he prospected for gold, and found it in paying quantities His prospecting was confined to a few bars in streams He is confident that rich gold fields exist a little higher up in the mountains near the head of the Wenachee and its tributaries

We learn from Hon A B Young, of Kitsap that a special election was held in that county on Thursday, of this week, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr H C Rowe Mr —— Temple, Union, was elected The contest was not very spirited, as none of the parties who are grabbing after the spoils reside there

Hon Fred A Clark, of Pierce county, has been appointed Deputy Assessor for this Revenue District, vice H M McGill, removed The appointment is an excellent one

The Puget Sound Weekly of the 20th ult says

The Custom House has at last been moved back to Port Townsend. The citizens of that place can now rejoice over the consummation of an object they have for some time been laboring It is not at the proper port for the convenience of all who are engaged in shipping to and from the Sound. We hope our neighbors of Port Townsend may realize all the advantages from its return they have anticipated

The work on the Snoqualmie road has been postponed until next spring With a few miles more—some eight or nine—connecting the different sections where the road has been made, we will have it completed well up to the summit of the Cascade mountains, so that a team can draw a wagon with an ordinary load over it with ease.

A letter from Clallam Bay, W T, states that the vicinity of the Phoenix Coal Mine had been severely visited by the late storms The miners at one time were seriously incommoded by water, but the admirable machinery in use at the mine succeeded in freeing the works after a day or two of pumping.

AT THE

Bennett House,

SALEM OREGON

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL, is prepared to accommodate the traveling public and THE HUNDRED REGULAR BOARDERS in as good style as any House on the Coast He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem He will soon complete some important improvements which will add greatly to its appearance and comfort and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage

He has secured the services of Charley (known to be the best cook in Salem and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to manage the culinary department and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in clap trap pomp and show flummery, but in a first rate table of an abundant supply of the very best the market affords

His Bar room will be kept warmed and lighted and well supplied with newspapers periodicals and other suitable reading matter and kept the sitting or which will make it an agreeable resort

In short he intends making all who stop at the BENNETT HOUSE And he most respectfully requests his friends everywhere to give the old and well known stand a trial one more trial before deciding, they can do as well elsewhere and promises if they are not well treated and properly cared for at fair reasonable figures it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28 1866

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON September 10, 1866

1 All applications shall be filed within the period of six months from the 1st day of October 1866, and before any payments are made shall be classified by regiments, battalions or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2 No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received, nor is he entitled to receive from the United States, under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28 1866, more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed

3 All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed and the evidence of identity shall be the same as is now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department.

4 As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment or other independent organization shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office and also in the office of the Second Auditor, of all claims presented under the law in which the claimants will be classified by regiments etc If the claims be allowed the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated

6 In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant, and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated

7 Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States or called out for special purposes, as State Militia, Home Guards etc, and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act

8 Soldiers enlisted for three years or during the war who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act

9 The minority of heirs claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family in which case it shall be paid to the mother Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes

1 Those who after serving the full period of their enlistment were dishonorably discharged at its expiration

2 Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment

3 Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service, but not occasioned by wounds received in the line of duty, who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge

4 Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5 The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty

6 The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who under previous laws have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States

The surviving soldiers as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers when such soldiers have bartered sold assigned loaned transferred exchanged or given away their final discharge papers or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress

8 The Act of the 28th of July 1866 creates no right of inheritance beyond that now vested by the law under which the soldiers received or were entitled to receive the original bounty and the heirs therein classed brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, SAN FRANCISCO Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse, This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures viz sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society loss of memory, hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any other of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give the patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued and medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co
